

Kinds of Leadership a Ministry Needs

Posted on January 18, 2017 —

Training Category: Leadership Ministry

Almost any kind of ministry needs direction and development.

Visionary leaders are best at providing this kind of leadership.

Almost any kind of ministry needs planning and coordination of the programs and procedures.

Administrative leaders are best at providing this kind of leadership.

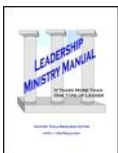

Almost any kind of ministry needs someone responsible for making sure the needs of its staff and people are attended to and met.

Shepherding leaders are best at providing this kind of leadership.

The balance, health, and growth of each ministry requires all types of leadership working in unity.

Learn more: Leadership Ministry: Types of Leaders

In the next post we'll ask, What Kind of Leader Are You?, with consideration given to spiritual gifting and personality most commonly found in these different types of leaders.

The Leadership Ministry Manual includes the content in this post plus other content in the Leadership Ministry Training section of the site.

Related Posts:

- Leading Types of Spiritual Gifts
- What Kind of Leader Are You?
- Leaders & Church Growth
- Developing Future Church Leaders: The Identification Process

This entry was posted in Leadership.

teody r.payac

on December 13, 2017 at 2:44 am said:

i want to be a leader soon.....

Ministry Tools Resource Center

on December 13, 2017 at 9:42 am said:

May God direct you according to His will. I pray these materials further equip you.